

Drawing Challenge Day 3 - Thoughtful Mark Making

Ok, the challenges are getting trickier - are you ready? In today's challenge you are only allowed to use these 'marks' to make your drawing:

Remember, looking is important! As you make your drawing, keep in mind 'LOOK, THINK, DRAW. LOOK, THINK, DRAW'. Try to use a pen so you can't rub things out. Remember, mistakes can often lead to the most interesting part of a drawing.

Before you begin with the first line, look and think which part of the object you can use it for.

Once you have finished using this type of line, move on the next type of mark. Look at the object and think about which part you can draw using this type of mark. Remember to look at the texture and shadows on the object as well.

Here's one I tried. I used the first line to draw the shapes I could see in the pepper. I used the circles to show changes in colour or light that I could see then used the straight lines to show the shadows. It definitely doesn't look exactly like the pepper but that's why I like it!

EXTRA CHALLENGE: Can you think of your own 3 marks to use to make a drawing?
