

Timetravellers

Chapter 1: The Mystery

Narrator

Jake was an ordinary boy, with ordinary parents. He grew up with lots of friends; he kept on getting A+'s in his schoolwork but at home, things were completely different. His parents loathe him and how hard he tries, he never seems to get along with them. One day while he was walking with his friends, he saw an enormous portal above his school.

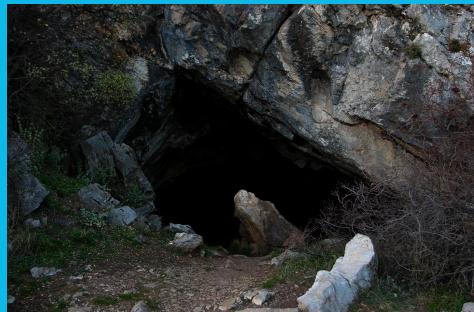

“Oh My God!” his friend Kate exclaimed. Kate was like any school girl. She also had very good grades. “Hide!” said an unknown voice. Suddenly, a portal sucked up Kate. “RUN!” shouted John. But he couldn't. Two portals suddenly appeared and each one of them got sucked into one. This was the end of the world, or so he thought....

Chapter 2: Time Travelling isn't fun

JAKE

Hi, I'm Jake. I've been separated from my friends and now I am stuck in the past. This day couldn't get any worse. Those portal things are how I got into this mess in the first place. ROARRRR!

Gulp. I should run. As I was running, a disturbing thought entered my head. "What if my friends were dead? How would I live without them?"

"Duck!" shouted a familiar voice. I did what I was told to do. The furious, raging T-Rex smashed into a fallen tree. It was Kate! Kind of. She was dressed up like a cavewoman. "Thanks," I said. "Grrrrrr."

Chapter 3: Time Travelling isn't fun (Part 2)

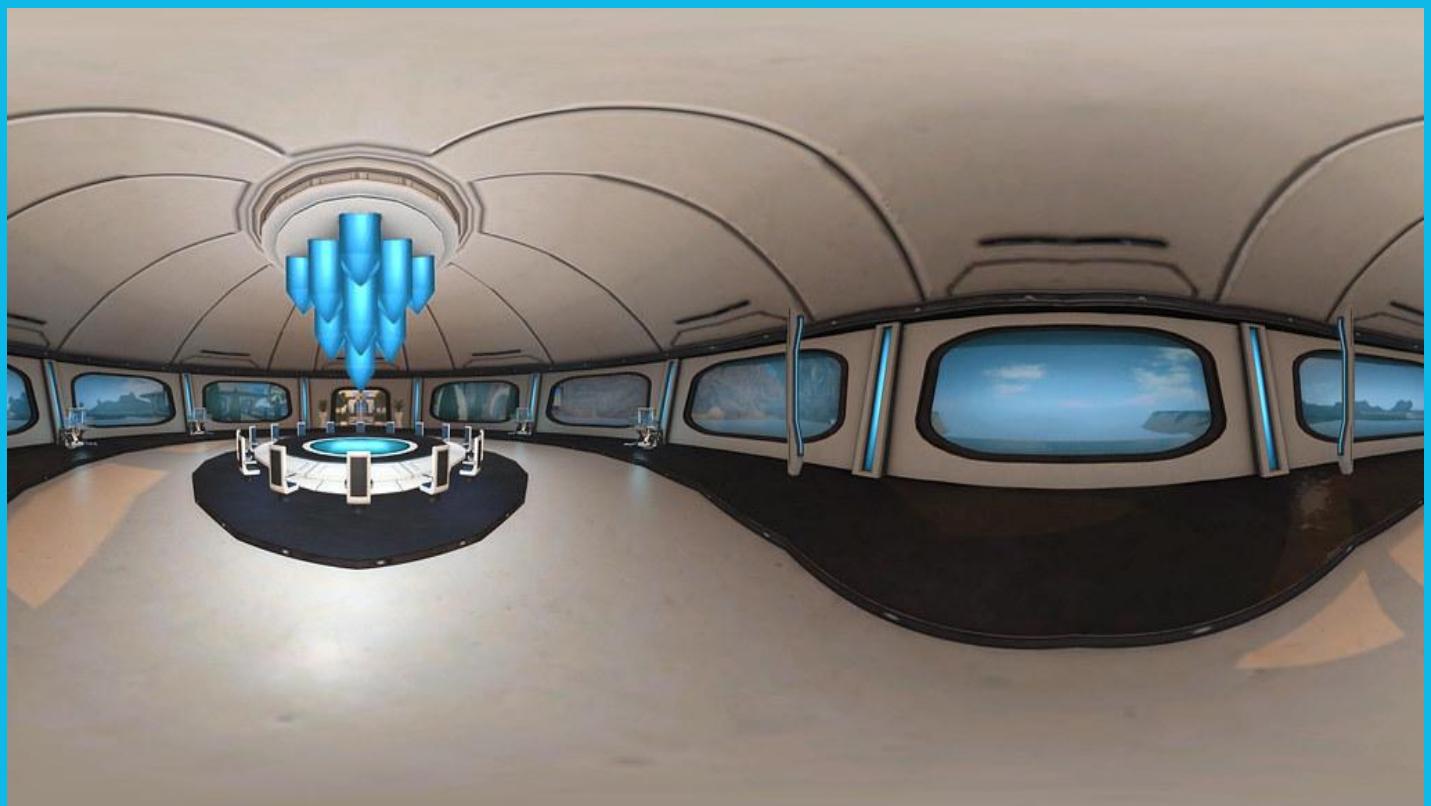

John

Hi I'm John. Whilst you were reading about Jake, I was here, trying to find a way back. So far, I discovered that there was a cube called an 'Energy Cube' in the past & future and I, however, don't know where the cube is. I've been searching for 2 hours but I still can't find it. I was recently hunted by robots. It looks like there are no humans left. I wonder how Kate and Jake are doing?

Chapter 4: Kidnapped

As I was walking on the pavement, I saw a robot. This doesn't look like the robots that were hunting me down. Suddenly, the robot grabbed me. "HELP!" I was muffled, hoping that one of my friends would come and save me.

Chapter 5: Another Dimension (Part 3)

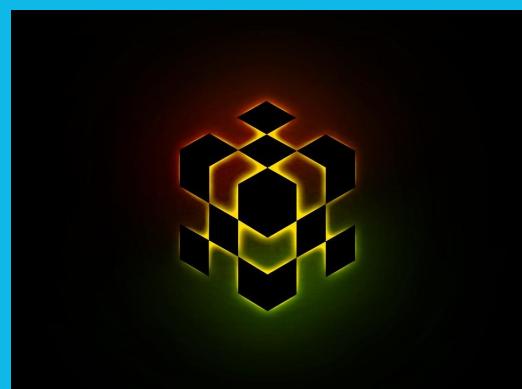

KATE

Kate here. I'm stuck in another dimension. I met my friends. Not exactly. They were all different, like they adapted to the environment. Luckily, I still have the walkie talkie that John gave me and Jake. The out-of-the world Jake and John were taking me to the leader. I couldn't believe my eyes. It was me. Sort of. But still. I was speechless, though rushing into my brain. As for the other me, I can tell she was as shocked as I was. She was perplexed. An unexpected voice came from the walkie talkie.

“Kate....Jake, if you can hear me. There is a cube in every world. Find it and you will be telep....” . BEEP. That was it. Unfortunately for Kate, her the other self was listening to the whole entire thing. “So.... you are trying to escape.” her other self said. “Here.” She handed me the cube. “Ever since the world has ended, we have been stuck here. This cube has been provided for us, but you need it more, so here.”

Chapter 6: Free from the stone age

JAKE

I ,Jack, have encountered a cavewoman. Yes, I am not lying. I never lie.... mabye I have but not this time. The cavewoman looked exactly like my friend, Kate. Suddenly, a message appeared on my walkie talkie. "Kate.... Jake,if you can hear me. There is a cube in every world. Find it and you will be telep....".

BEEP. Then I saw it. The cube was on some sort of table. I grabbed it before Caveman John could grab me....

Chapter 7: Future to Present

JOHN

So I hope the message went through to them otherwise, they're probably stuck. If you are wondering how I am able to communicate to you and not be captured by robots, it's because the robots were actually friendly. The robot who 'kidnapped' me is called Archer. Archer and his friend were rebels from the robot reign. They wanted to turn back to humans and surprisingly, the day that I appeared in the future, they were planning on striking and fighting back. They wanted me to help but I was too afraid.

During the battle, I snuck into the palace of the King Robot. It was huge. I researched in the rebels bunker and the energy cube can even make a whole city under your control. Luckily, I am a technology genius and discovered a way to unlock all the doors. As I was doing that, I heard footsteps. They were coming closer. I tried to hurry but it just wouldn't hurry. Finally, the door was opening. I crawled under it and I saw the Energy Cube. I touched it and....
