

The Ultimate Clash Of The 2 Divine Gods

By Joel

Chapter One

Tristan spoke with extreme annoyance "Find the name of this so called hero and bring his head to my throne those who manage to do so will be granted a large portion my venomous blood." The ominous aura that emerged for Tristan froze his subordinates in fear. "You're dismissed!" Demanded Tristan.

Tristan now in fear as no-one in a millennia has been able to kill 3 of his high ranking subordinates let alone 1.

2 days later...

"I have returned the princess Tristan's subordinates, your majesty," Said the warrior. "Thank you Ragnol I hope you will continue to serve me as a knight" Said a pleased King. As all was being said Ichigo (one of Tristan's subordinates) was listening the whole time he also found out Ragnol had a daughter accompanying him at the Liones Castle. He was eager to become a stronger warrior to prove himself to Tristan that he is worthy of his honour. So he immediately went to report to Tristan but it would take three weeks back but he had a magic orb that could take him in a matter of 2-7 days so he uses the orb to get back to Tristan.

5 days later..

"Lord Tristan I have come to report to you that I have found the location of them man who slayed three of our warriors, I also have some more information about him his name is Ragnol titled The strongest knight of Liones he is half human half angel who stays with his daughter who is accompanying him at the castle I hope this information will be useful to you my Lord," Ichigo exclaimed. Ichigo was ecstatic to finally be recognized by Tristan and also felt pleased as it was a long time since he had been noticed.

"You may lift your head, the information you have shared with me will surely be rewarded but I ask why you did not kill him." Tristan ranted.

"My lord I chose not to attack because he had taken out 3 high ranking warriors and I am simply a lower rank and would be slaughtered effortlessly." explained Ichigo. Tristan, called Lancelot(his strongest warrior) to establish a great plan to put an end to Ragnol deciding to send himself and Lancelot to assassinate Ragnol by capturing his daughter at dawn.

Chapter Two

Liones Ark

Tristan and Lancelot went on their journey to assassinate Ragnol as he was a huge threat to the Demon Race as his magic could purify a demon's soul. 5 days later

“We have arrived, my Lord.” said Lancelot. The plan was for Lancelot to silence the King and Tristan to capture Ragnol’s daughter. The plan was in set and they split ways prepared for battle. Tristan with his demon eye was able to sense the princess from a mile away instantly teleporting to her room putting her in a coffin of eternal darkness, as the seal was beginning to take control Ragnol heard a loud scream come from his daughter room so immediately flew to her room kicking Tristan out the wall and drew his holy sword Rhitta. Lancelot heard the competition and immediately went to help but got decapitated instantly turning into dust in a matter of seconds - killing him.

“ H-H How is that possible he is even on par with my level of power!” muttered Tristan. But suddenly he started gagging up blood not realising he has got decapitated ultimately killing the King Of Curses.

The End

